

I am a user of XM Satellite service and find it to be a very useful and entertaining service. I travel extensively, I am in my car for up to 15 hours a week and use the service almost exclusively. Traveling from city to city I find it convenient to listen to one station of my choosing during my travel. I also find it very helpful to be able to find both weather and traffic in one place for so many different cities. To force the satellite companies to stop offering these services is both a violation of the satellite companies rights under the First Amendment as well as taking away my freedom of choice. Please reject the NAB's petition 04-160 and continue to allow the satellite companies to offer a very useful entertaining tool.
